Hello!

Thank you for your interest in a Festival Production Rights Agreement from the International Theatresports™ Institute.

Keith Johnstone created the ITI in 1998 to promote and develop a worldwide Theatresports™ community and manage the licensing for his formats: Theatresports™, Maestro Impro™, and Gorilla Theatre™. Members of the ITI community can be found all across the world.

Have a look at our members page to see where! <https://impro.global/membership/members>

To become a Festival Production Rights holder, you'll need to submit an application form. All you need to do is follow the instructions and fill in a copy of the attached form. Then send it back to us by email, fax or post.

Once your completed application has been received, our Selection Committee will review your eligibility to become a Festival Production Rights holder and therefore a member of the ITI. There are many factors considered in this process such as your knowledge of Keith Johnstone's work, your plans for using Keith's formats, and ensuring there is no conflict with existing companies in your territory.

We aim to be as efficient as possible with the application process. If you are concerned about getting your application processed in time for a planned performance, contact us and we would be happy to give you an estimate of how long your information will take to be reviewed.

If your application is successful, we will send you an agreement and give you further instructions to complete your paperwork.

Please note that the cost of a Festival Production Rights Agreement is 5% of the gross revenue generated from using Keith's formats.

If you have any difficulties filling out the application form, please contact us admin@theatresports.org

Thank you!

We look forward to improvising with you!
